

POINCARÉ ELECTED FRENCH PRESIDENT ON SECOND VOTE

FRENCH DEPUTIES ASSEMBLED TO CAST THEIR BALLOT FOR HIGH STATE OFFICIAL.

A DUEL IS AVERTED

Ancient Palace of Versailles the Scene of Gathering of Leaders of the French Republic.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Versailles, France, Jan. 17.—Premier Poincaré was elected president of the French republic by the national assembly here today.

Premier Raymond Poincaré obtained 429 votes on the first ballot and Jules Pams 327, according to the corrected result. A second ballot must therefore be taken, the number necessary for election being 435.

The result of the second ballot was Raymond Poincaré, 483 elected. Jules Pams, 296. Marie Edward Malant, 69.

The senators and deputies of France arrived in small groups throughout the forenoon today to take part in the election of a new president of the republic. President Fallières' term expires on February 18. Nominally 897 representatives of the people were entitled to vote today in the national assembly convened in the ancient residence of the kings of France.

According to the constitution if the ballots are cast without a result the candidate then holding the highest total of votes is chosen as president. Out of the nine presidential elections which have been held since the foundation of the third republic in 1870 seven have been decided on the first ballot.

Only at the election of Sadi-Carnot in 1887 and of Felix Faure in 1895 were two ballots necessary.

The national assembly was opened by Antonin Dubost, president of the senate, who read the decree of convocation. Nineteenth of the spectators in the galleries were women. Everybody present was listening with strained attention when suddenly a thunderous voice from the body of the hall shouted—

"We protest against this!"
The rest of the phrase was lost in a tumult of cries and exclamations. The voice was that of the conservative deputy, the Marquis Albert de Dion, who when the uproar had subsided, started afresh:

"We protest against the election of the president of the republic by parliament instead of by the people."

The assembly was agitated anew by a shout from a socialist deputy, "Down with the empire!"

The republicans replied by cheering "Long live the republic!"

Senator Dubost gradually restored order by admonishing the assembly that such interruptions were deplorable and futile as well as being contrary to the rules of what was merely an electoral college where motions and speeches, whatever their character, were not permissible.

Previous to his election, Premier Poincaré was insulted by ex-Premier Georges Clemenceau, at the opening of the national congress for the election of a president. M. Poincaré at once appointed Aristide Briand, the minister of justice, and L. L. Klotz, minister of finance, to act as his seconds, and to arrange a duel.

The incident between Poincaré and Clemenceau arose out of a letter sent by the former premier to M. Poincaré, the contents of which were considered offensive by the recipient. The premier promptly sent his seconds to ask for an explanation and unless this should prove satisfactory under the customs of France the incident will result in a duel.

Considerable commotion was caused by a stranger seeking to obtain entrance into the palace. When he was stopped by a gendarme and asked his business he pulled out a revolver and shouted "This election should not take place." He was at once disarmed and arrested. A number of other suspects also were taken into custody.

The interior of the palace which dates from the time of Louis the 14th was brilliantly decorated. Within the palace many lively luncheon and tea parties were given by the various functionaries while some of the smaller rooms were occupied by partisans of the various candidates discussing the tactics to be pursued.

The broad lobbies were filled with senators and deputies and hundreds of reporters for all of whom the government provided tobacco, cigars and cigarettes.

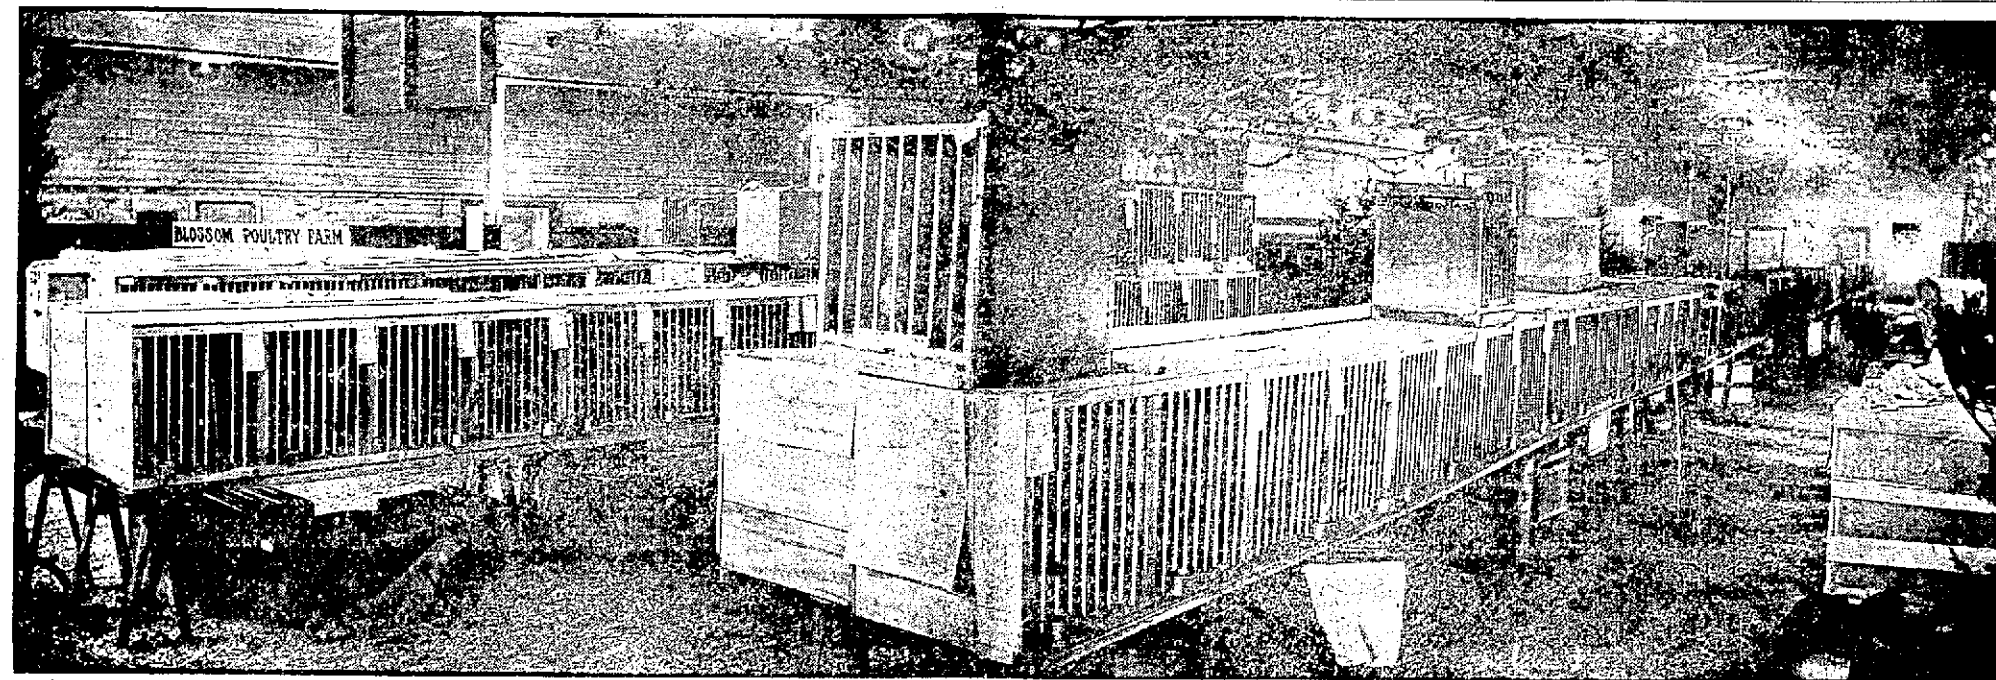

Twelve special telegraph wires had been laid from Versailles to Paris, for the use of officials and newspaper correspondents and dozens of special telephones were installed to insure rapid communication.

The buffet of the palace was heavily stocked with large quantities of all kinds of food and thousands of bottles of mineral water. Throughout the morning two huge cauldrons of soup steamed constantly in the palace kitchen and cups of his were passed around at various intervals.

During the proceedings of the national assembly Georges Clemenceau made a satisfactory explanation to M. Briand and M. Klotz, who had been sent to him by Premier Poincaré relative to the letter he received last evening from the ex-premier. The incident is, therefore, considered closed.

TWO THROWN FROM AUTO AND KILLED

Secretary to Owner of St. Louis Ball
Club and Prominent St. Louis
Merchant Killed in Accident.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
St. Louis, Jan. 17.—Russell F. Davis of Cleveland, assistant secretary to Mrs. Helene Britton, owner of the St. Louis National, and William H. Waters of St. Louis, president of a novelty company, were killed in an auto accident here today.

The automobile in which they were riding struck the projecting cap of a water plug at Grand and Cottage avenues. The impact turned the car around, threw the two men out and tore the cap off the water plug, flooding the streets and inundating Davis' body as it lay near the curb. He died a few minutes after he had been taken out of the water by a policeman. Waters was hurled in the air and landed on the rear end of the car. He was dead when picked up.

WALLS FELL, KILLING ITALIAN LABORERS

Six Men Killed and $300,000 Damage
Done by Fire in Edmonton, Alberta, Wholesale District.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Edmonton, Alta., Jan. 17.—Six Italian laborers were killed and property valued at approximately $300,000 was destroyed by a fire in the wholesale district of this city early today.

The dead were asleep in a small rooming house adjoining the Canadian Rubber Company's building in which the fire originated and were crushed by a five story brick wall which crashed down on the little frame structure without warning. Chief leader of the fire department was taken to a hospital unconscious. The rubber company's structure was a total loss and the buildings occupied by the Eastern Carriage Company and the Snowdon Oil Company also were destroyed. The cause of the conflagration is unknown.

Will Comply With Request of President-elect Wilson.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Jan. 17.—"There will be no inaugural ball," declared William C. Bustis, chairman of the inaugural committee, today, after an informal conference with several members over President-elect Wilson's letter requesting that the committee consider the feasibility of omitting the function.

"The wishes of President-elect Wilson will be complied with," said Mr. Bustis. The committee will take official action later.

ASKS INDICTMENT OF NEW YORK BROKER

Chairman Pujo of Money Trust Committee Testified Before Federal Grand Jury Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Jan. 17.—Chairman Pujo of the house money trust investigating committee testified before the federal grand jury today asking the indictments for contempt of George G. Henry, a New York broker who refused to tell the committee the names of twenty-four national bank officers who he said profited $50,000 in a syndicate flotation of California petroleum stock. Henry and his counsel contend the committee has no authority to inquire into the affair. The case promises to go to the supreme court.

JURY DISREGARDED PLEA OF INSANITY

Oregon Man Convicted in Federal Court of Robbing Mail Car
Despite Plea of His Counsel.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 17.—"Guilty" was the verdict returned in the federal court in Kansas City, Kansas, today in the case of Wells Lounsbury of Medford, Oregon, who last August robbed a mail car on a Union Pacific overland train between Kansas City and Lawrence, Kansas. The verdict was returned on one count. According to the instruction of the court each count calls for a sentence of ten years in the penitentiary. The plea of the defense was insanity. The government introduced expert witnesses as well as citizens of Medford, Lounsbury's home to refute that plea.

EKERN PLANS FIGHT IF ANDERSON TAKES OFFICE ON MONDAY

Believed That Deposed Commissioner
Will Start Injunction Suit Against His Would-Be Successor.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Jan. 17.—No new developments in the Ekern case are expected before next Monday, when L. A. Anderson, whom Gov. McGovern has appointed insurance commissioner, will return to Madison.

Ekern's lawyers have stated that the appointment of Anderson has so far made no change in the case, which indicates that no legal action will be started until Mr. Anderson attempts to assume control of the office. The night that Mr. Anderson was appointed, under previous directions from Commissioner Ekern, Anderson left for Sioux City and Des Moines, Ia., to examine the condition of several life insurance companies. He is scheduled to return home Saturday evening.

There is a growing belief that the governor intends to have Anderson assume the duties of the office some time Monday.

Should Anderson endeavor to take the office on that day, it is believed that Ekern will resist, the attempt will set out numerous papers. Such action would bring the case square before the circuit court.

The senators are reluctant. Apparently there is no disposition on their part to confirm the appointment immediately. The early talk of an investigation by the senate has been dropped, and there now seems to be an indication on the part of the senators to call upon the governor to furnish all the information in his possession upon which he based his dismissal of Ekern.

LaFollette's Charges.
LaFollette's Magazine sees the possibility of Wall Street's hand in the recent removal of Herman L. Ekern from the office of commissioner of insurance of Wisconsin. The magazine came out today with an editorial filled with pungent criticism of the governor's action in dismissing Ekern. After describing Ekern's record for achievement in the office, the editorial continues:

"How much of this attempt to destroy his great work for the state is due to political malice and how much, if any, is due to the machinations of Wall Street, with which one George W. Perkins is connected, cannot now be determined. Ekern's work is hostile to the Money Trust which controls banks and insurance companies—those great resources in which are concentrated the savings of the people. His removal from office, whatever may be the purpose immediately behind it, will be very gratifying to Perkins and his associates."

"One people of Wisconsin will not submit to this. They will not suffer this man or his important service to leave upon any pretext, however disguised."

YOU ARE PROTECTED BY MANUFACTURERS

There are two kinds of manufacturers. The honest and the dishonest—the man who makes the best and the man who makes something inferior. One aims to build up a host of customers by advertising a worthy product at an honest price and the other hawks the unwary by offering "something just as good" at a tempting price.

One takes you into his confidence and deals with you in the open. The other attempts to outsmart you by underhand practices, misrepresentation, and unfair business methods.

Manufacturers who advertise in THE GAZETTE are among those who protect you from the unscrupulous. The fact that they advertise proves that they have nothing to hide.

Read the advertisements in THE GAZETTE closely and constantly every day. Get acquainted with the manufacturers who protect you from "just as good" products by identifying their goods with distinctive brands, packages, and names. It pays to advertise and it will pay you to read and heed the advertisements that appear every day in THE GAZETTE.

FIGHT OVER CORN PRODUCT RENEWED

State and Federal Officials in New York Take Up Question of Label Used on Product.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Jan. 17.—The fight before federal and state pure food officials over the right of the corn products company of 20 Broadway, New York, to label one of its products as a corn syrup rather than glucose was renewed today before the supreme court. The point in issue was the constitutionality of the Wisconsin pure food law under which the company's corn syrup not labeled in accordance with the state law. The state officials claimed that as the product contained more than 75 percent glucose it should have been labeled glucose flavored with refiners' syrup.

Attorneys on behalf of the grocer, contend that the state law is in conflict with the federal pure food law and therefore unconstitutional.

CHICAGO FINANCES IN CRITICAL SHAPE

Municipal Treasury Depleted And Appeal Will Be Made To Legislature
For Immediate Bond Issue.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Jan. 17.—Chicago is facing the most critical period in its history because of a depleted municipal treasury according to Mayor Harrison, who announced today that an immediate appeal would be made to the Illinois general assembly for legislation authorizing a $700,000 bond issue.

Recently the salaries of all city employees were cut 20 percent to meet the deficit, but even with the large saving the city is confronted with a shortage of more than $2,000,000 to meet this year's annual budget. The health department recently asked for an emergency appropriation of $50,000 for use in fighting contagious diseases, but the demand was refused because of shortage of funds.

Instructions have reached the German ambassador at Constantinople to participate with his diplomatic colleagues in handing the note to Turkey.

PAPER AND TOBACCO INDUSTRIES HEARD ON NEW SCHEDULES

Prominent Manufacturers Give Testimony Before House As to Effect of Proposed Tariffs.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Paper and tobacco industries were today on the hearing program of the house committee on ways and means. A large representation of those interested in the pulp paper and book industry affected by schedule "M" of the tariff law were ready early to testify and among scheduled witnesses were men from Havana, Tampa and other cities where as spokesmen for the wrapper and filler cigar and cigarette production and importing interests who regard the consideration of schedule "F" as vitally important.

The Tariff.
The present law taxes mechanically ground wood pulp at one twelfth of a cent a pound, but admits it free from any production place which does not by license fees or export charges of any kind restrict the exportation of printing paper, wood pulp or wood for use by wood pulp manufacturers.

This restriction wherever made is added to the United States tariff on these products from the country making such charges. Printing paper is subject to a sliding scale from three sixteenths of a cent a pound to 15 percent ad valorem and manufacturers of paper take 35 percent ad valorem.

The tariff now assesses wrapper tobacco and filler tobacco mixed or packed with more than 15 percent of wrapper tobacco and all leaf tobacco the product of two or more countries when mixed or packed together if unstemmed $1.85 a pound.

If stemmed $2.50 a pound. Other filler tobacco if unstemmed 35 cents a pound. If stemmed 50 cents. All other tobacco and snuff 55 cents a pound. Cigars, cigarettes $4.50 a pound and 25 percent ad valorem.

Neither of the schedules has been considered by the committee in connection with the tariff revision program of the next congress until today.

Tobacco men first were heard. The leaf tobacco boards of trade of Philadelphia and New York represented respectively by John R. Young and John Duxs advocated a reduction in the rate of duty on imported wrapper tobacco from $1.55 to $1.00 and assessment of duty on tobacco at weight at the time of withdrawal from bonded warehouses.

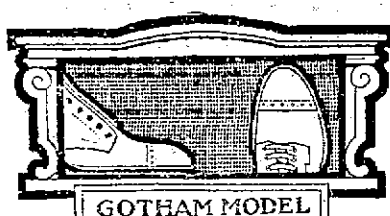

Neal Brown, of Wausau, Wisconsin, representing paper manufacturers urged tariff protection. Charles W. Williams of New York, who said he was a jobber friendly both to importers and to 2,000 paper box manufacturers favored a duty that was competitive and not prohibitive and urged a reduction in the tariff on imported material for coated paper and other products. That he said would save the paper box manufacturers a million dollars and at the same time the government one million dollars more revenue.

Opposition to reductions was voiced by J. A. Herr, president of the Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, Tobacco Growers Association, who declared any reduction would injure the tobacco interests of Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Wisconsin.

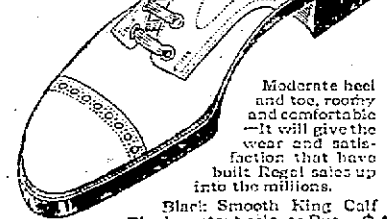

Richard Stewart, a negro lawyer sent to Chicago by former Senator Foraker to get a statement from William Winkfield, a former Standard Oil messenger about the sale of Archibald letters appeared again today before the Clapp committee investigating campaign funds within adding much light upon the incident. He made some corrections in his previous testimony. Under questioning by Senator Pomerene he denied having confided to a friend that he was to get $15,000 for his work "for the biggest people on earth—Wall Street." The committee then adjourned indefinitely.

LARGE CROWD AT THE POULTRY SHOW TODAY

MANY PEOPLE FROM CITY AND OUT OF TOWN VISITED EXHIBITION AT THE AUDITORIUM.

SCORING IS COMPLETED

Judges Completed Work Today and Secretary is Figuring Up Scores and Announcing Awards in Various Classes.

With fair, mild weather and all conditions favorable, prospects early today were favorable for a large attendance at the poultry show, and during the day the number of people who visited the Auditorium building to see the exhibition of fowls held there under the auspices of the Southern Wisconsin Poultry Association, was quite large. Yesterday's attendance, despite the damp, foggy weather, was fair, according to officials of the show, and better than expected. A large number of visitors from out of town have been here during the week, and today the number was larger than usual. Residents of this city and the nearby rural districts who are in the raising of poultry have also been coming in to view the birds, and the show without question is generally conceded to be as good as any exhibit of its kind held in the state, and far superior to some of the shows that are given.

The auction of fowls, held this afternoon at the auditorium, brought in quite a number of visitors, both from the city and from away.

Considerable interest was shown in the action by prospective buyers and other visitors to the show. Some of the fowls brought quite fancy prices. W. T. Dooley acted as auctioneer.

The scoring of fowls has practically been completed by the judges. Earl Roberts of Port Atkinson and Charles V. Keeler of Winnebago, Ind., and Secretary F. E. Lane and his assistant are busy figuring up the scores of the birds in various classes and making the awards to the winners. As fast as announced, the ribbons are being hung on the various pens. Since the judges completed their work the exhibitors have been allowed to place their business cards on the coops.

CREATED A DISTURBANCE AT PUBLIC DANCE HALL

Complaint Made to Police As to Conduct of Edward Doherty—Pays Fine for Being Intoxicated.

Believing that the dancing at the Hibernian hall was too tame an amusement and that some more exhilarating entertainment should be provided, Edward Doherty, it is alleged, proceeded to pick a fight which resulted in his receiving one black eye and being placed under arrest. Doherty denied starting the trouble when arraigned on a charge of drunkenness this morning, but plead guilty and paid a fine of five dollars and costs, which some of his friends kindly provided. The police were called to the hall two different times for the purpose of suppressing Doherty. His returning to the dance hall after he had been warned away led to the police being called a second time.

OVER A TON OF MAIL HAS BEEN SENT OUT

Outgoing Parcels Post Packages Received at Postoffice Up to Jan. 15 Weighed 2526 Pounds.

Outgoing packages dispatched to other postoffices through the parcels post for the fifteen days of the month of January weighed over a ton, according to statistics given out by Postmaster C. J. Valentine at the local postoffice today. A record was kept at the postoffice of the parcels post matter handled from the inauguration of the system on January 1 up until the close of business on the evening of January 15, and reports of the business have been sent to the postoffice department at Washington. The stamp sales for that period amounted to $514.80.

These reports show that during the fifteen days, 3,345 outgoing packages were received, with a weight in the aggregate of 2,526 pounds and six ounces. The number of incoming packages for delivery in the local zone was forty-two and the total weight was sixty-seven pounds. The total number of pieces of parcels post matter received from other offices was 3,079, making a total of 3,221 packages delivered in the local zone.

The parcels post system is coming into more general use in this city and the merchants and manufacturing concerns are beginning to use it for sending out packages and other fourth class matter, a number having first made tests of its efficiency and the lessened cost of sending merchandise in this manner.

The secret is out now why Ty Cobb wants a $15,000 salary this year. Ty is anxious to break every record in baseball. He has broken several, but he gets only a $9,000 salary, which is $1,000 less than Hans Wagner gets, or has been paid in the past. Ty wants to be able to say that he has received the highest salary ever paid a player. Even though he has broken the record, but the Georgia Peach wants fifteen—a figure so high that it probably never would be beaten in his lifetime.

Alfred De Oro and Thomas Huston will settle the pool championship the latter part of February. In twenty-three years De Oro has lost only four pool matches. He has been beaten several times in tournaments, but has been almost invincible in matches. His last defeat in a match took place at St. Louis in November, 1908, when Huston won the championship from him.

Joe McGinnity, for many years a big figure in baseball in the east, has decided to try his luck in western baseball, and has gone to Toconoma, Wash., to take charge of the Northwestern league club there, which he purchased recently. They used because he was always ready and anxious to pitch a game. He had an interest in the Newark club of the International league for several years, but sold out last fall.

If a proposed bill which Senator W. F. Brown of Los Angeles is about to introduce in the California legislature becomes law, prize fighting will be a thing of the past in the Golden state. Brown's plan is not to permit boxing where the principals receive compensation. "I want to divorce the financial end from the game altogether," says the senator. "Then we shall have clean boxing without the slugging that now attends it. Los Angeles was disgraced by the reports of the Palmer-McCarthy fight."

Jean Dubuc, who positively declared not long ago that he would pitch no more for the Detroit Tigers, thinks seriously of changing his mind. Nothing better in the way of a job has shown up.

Sam Crawford of the Detroit Tigers, who is a hold-out, just spoke right up and told some of his thoughts the other day. "Some of us hold-outs thought it over and figured that after all it was the players that the people came to see and not the bleachers or the grandstand or the signs on the fence or even the pretty white lines around the diamond," said Sam. "So we figured we ought to get something like a fair share of the gate money."

"High priced team? Making no money? Huh! When you come to think about a theatrical star getting $2,000 a week for appearing in a theater that holds only a few hundred people, and that we perform before thousands, it looks like the baseball magnates could afford something. Maybe they won't come across, but I shan't worry."

BREADMAKING TAUGHT CLASS IN COOKING

First Lesson Given Last Evening—Young Married Women, House-maids and Single Women in Class.

First lessons in the science and art of baking bread were given the night school class in cooking last evening. The seventeen members of the class reported for work at 8:30 o'clock, an hour earlier than usual, mixed the ingredients, kneaded the dough, formed the loaves and placed them in the ovens. By 9:30 o'clock the bread was done and each cook sampled her product which was pronounced satisfactory. A quick process method made breadmaking possible in the short space of three hours. On Tuesday evening the class visited the Cozy bakery with their teacher, Mrs. E. H. Coplan, and saw how bread was made by professional bakers.

Breadmaking is but one of a large number of foods that the cooking class is being taught to prepare. Lessons have been given in the preparation of rolls and muffins, biscuits, salads, and the serving of fruit. Just before the holidays lessons in candy-making were given and more recently instruction in the use of deep-frying processes, the preparation of croquettes and fritters.

The membership of the class is principally made up of three classes: young married women, unmarried women who live at home or do light housekeeping, and house-maids. A number of the latter are enrolled and are among the most enthusiastic students. The class is growing in popularity, four having joined this week, and the number now enrolled is about all that can be accommodated with the present facilities.

Nearly three hundred are attending the night school. Additional classes have been formed in electricity, sewing and drawing. The salesmanship class, attended largely by clerks in the local stores, has a membership of sixty. Paul Neystrom of the University of Wisconsin, one of its instructors was here last night. Attendance in all classes has been very regular. On the first night after the holidays the attendance was light, but this is attributed to re-opening the classes too early, and at a time when many of the pupils were doing extra work of different kinds.

SKI TOURNAMENT POSTPONED DUE TO PRESENT THAW.

The recent warm weather spoiled the Stoughton Ski slide to such an extent that the tournament will be postponed. This fact has brought disappointment to many Janesville people who intended to journey to Stoughton tomorrow to see the human birdmen perform their feats of daring.

The field entry this year is far superior to that of the past years and the Stoughton citizens had made elaborate preparations to make this year's slide a success.

Criticize Advertisements: The Philanthropic Society held their regular meeting last night. Parliamentary practice was the procedure for a while, and then advertisements were read and criticized by various members of the society. Marion Fletcher concluded the program by reading the second installment of a serial story which was started last week.

MRS. S. LAWRENCE DIED LAST EVENING

Passed Away at Home of Her Daughter, Mrs. M. G. Jeffris—Had Been Ill for Long Time.

Mrs. Sarah K. Lawrence, mother of Mrs. M. G. Jeffris, passed away last evening at the home of her daughter, 502 St. Lawrence avenue, after a protracted illness. Her health had been unusually good for her years until she fractured her hip in an accident last September. From this accident she never fully recovered. Mrs. Lawrence was eighty-eight years old and was born at Warren, New Hampshire, July 4, 1825. Her maiden name was Sarah Emerson. In 1844 she came to Wisconsin with her parents, settling at Madison. There she married Samuel H. Roy in 1847. Mr. Roy was a practicing attorney and a member of the law firm of Vilas, Roy, and Pinney. He died in 1897 and in 1895 his widow became the wife of William A. Lawrence of this city. Since that time Mrs. Lawrence has always resided in Janesville. Mrs. Lawrence had many friends who were attracted to her by her charitable and unselfish disposition and breadth of mind which enabled her to sympathize with and comprehend the views of others. Surviving her are a son, Rufus H. Roy of Vancouver, B. C., and a daughter, Mrs. M. G. Jeffris. Funeral services will be held at the home at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The Rev. J. C. Hazen, pastor of the First Baptist church, will be the officiating pastor. Burial will be made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Katherine McCauley. The remains of Katherine McCauley

the seventeen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. McCauley of Fairchild, Wis., arrived here last evening at 7:45 o'clock over the Chicago and Northwestern railway and were taken to the home of Mrs. Belle Daggett, 230 South Franklin street. The funeral was held this morning at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's church. The Rev. Father W. A. Goebel officiated. Burial was made in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

SPEED OF TRAINS LIMITED IN CITY OF FORT ATKINSON

Council has Passed Ordinance Which Forbids Trains Running Faster Than Twelve Miles an Hour

Railroad men in this city have recently been notified of the terms of an ordinance passed recently by the common council of the city of Fort Atkinson, limiting the speed of trains passing through that city. The ordinance provides that trains shall not move at a rate of speed to exceed twelve miles an hour. Similar ordinances with regard to the movement of trains are in effect in other cities in the state.

FOR A BAD STOMACH PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

Time It! In five minutes you will wonder what became of the Gas, Sourness and Indigestion.

Sour, gassy, upset stomach, indigestion, heartburn, dyspepsia, when the food you eat ferments into gases and stubborn lumps; your head aches and you feel sick and miserable, that's when you realize the magic in Pape's Diapepsin. It makes such misery vanish in five minutes.

If your stomach is in a continuous revolt—if you can't get it regulated, please, for your sake, try Diapepsin. It's so needless to have a bad stomach—make your next meal a favorite food meal, then take a little Diapepsin. There will not be any distress—eat without fear. It's because Pape's Diapepsin "really" does regulate weak, out-of-order stomachs—that gives it its millions of sales annually.

Get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. It's the quickest, surest stomach relief and cure known. It acts almost like magic—it is a scientific, harmless and pleasant preparation which truly belongs in every home.

INTERMEDIATES TO PLAY BELOIT FIVE

Local Y. M. C. A. Basketball Team Will Play Line City Intermediates—Saturday Evening.

On Saturday evening the Y. M. C. A. Intermediate basketball team will clash with the Intermediates of Beloit. The game will be played on the Y floor at Beloit, and gives promise of being a close contest. The Beloit Intermediates have not lost a game this season, and hope to wipe out some of the defeats of the past they have suffered at the hands of the Janesville players. The Bower City five has played only one game this season, but won from the Milton high school squad by a large score, and are confident of another victory at Beloit. The members of the local team have played together for two years, and have evolved a system of team work that has proved successful in all the games they have played. They are said to be one of the best intermediate teams in the state. The team will be accompanied to Beloit by Physical Director T. C. Hartwell, who will act as referee at the game. The lineup for Janesville: Biensdale, c; McKeigue, r. f.; McElroy, l. f.; Stickney, c. g.; Rau, l. g.

New Suits Ordered. New suits have been ordered for the members of the Y. M. C. A. first team and will, it is expected, arrive in a short time. The outfits includes shirts, sweater coats and stockings, and the colors are black with a scarlet stripe. The best quality of goods obtainable has been ordered. No immediate games have been scheduled for the team, but negotiations are being made with Monroe, Edgerton, Whitewater and Evansville for games. Captain Mott, who injured his shoulder in the contest at Milton, will be able to play in a short time.

CIVIL ACTION IS TRIED BEFORE JUSTICE C. LANG.

Case of William Dixon Versus Wilbur Schultz Argued This Afternoon—Case From Lima.

The case of William Dixon versus Wilbur Schultz, a civil action from the town of Lima was tried before Justice Charles Lang this afternoon. The case arose out of the sale of twenty young pigs by Mr. Schultz to Mr. Dixon. The pigs died almost immediately after being delivered and it is thought they were afflicted with cholera. Mr. Dixon contends that the defendant Mr. Schultz was aware of the diseased condition of the pigs at the time they were sold. J. J. Cunningham was the attorney for the plaintiff and Thomas Nolan appeared for the defendant. A number of witnesses were examined and the municipal court room was well filled with spectators from the town of Lima.

RAIN INCREASES GRAVITY OF FIGHT AGAINST FLOOD

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Evansville, Ind., Jan. 17.—A steady rain throughout last night and this morning with the flood stage the highest since 1884, the gravity of Evansville's fight against the Ohio river was increased today. While the rainfall was less than one inch, it presented a new problem in caring for the homeless. Fear of a typhoid fever epidemic due to the flooding of the sewers, has been expressed.

HIGH SCHOOL AND RAILROAD CO-OPERATE.

Boys in the high school at McComb City, Miss., earn from $12 to $18 a month regularly while attending school. A plan of co-operation has been drawn up between the high school and the Illinois Central railroad, whereby the boys attend school one day and work in the railroad shops the next, according to information received at the United States Bureau of Education. The "student apprentices," as they are called, are paid for their work in the shops, the minimum wage being 12 cents an hour. After four years of combined high school attendance and shop work the boy is prepared to enter college or draw a man's pay at his trade.

Railroad and school authorities both agree that the plan works well. The railroad official in charge of the boys said: "After actual tests it is shown that the plan of co-operation between the Illinois Central railroad shops and the McComb City high school is not only feasible but that it is working out in a manner entirely satisfactory. I believe it to be for the best interest of the railroad company to fill all vacancies in the apprenticeship system as far as possible with co-operative apprentices." Superintendent Hughes, of the school system, is equally enthusiastic over results from the school's point of view. He believes the plan offers one solution of the problem of keeping boys in school; that it fosters a boy's spirit of independence and satisfies his commendable ambition to get into the game of life.

The McComb City plan is another indication of the strength of the present movement for systematic vocational education, in connection with the public schools. It is noteworthy in that it does not lose sight of the need for continued cultural training for the boy who may want to earn his living in the shops.

The United States Bureau of Education is setting the pace for practical training in the public schools, and is leading out to the press of the country this report from McComb City, Miss. The same plan is being adopted in other states, and Wisconsin is in line with its industrial school system. The outlook for the average boy and girl is more hopeful.

THE MOTHERS' PENSION.

Whatever may be the merits of the Mothers' pension bill, to be presented to the legislature, the fact remains that a pension is a recognition of dependence, and should be the last resort in relieving poverty.

There are widowed mothers in this and every other state who are entitled to practical sympathy, but there are thousands of mothers who are not widows, who are equally dependent because the saloon claims the contents of the pay envelope.

A mothers' pension to this class of men, means less responsibility and more shiftlessness. If some plan can be devised to save for the home the earnings which belong to it, Mothers' pensions, as well as old age pensions, would not be needed.

The life of the average man is long enough to provide for his family, and an opportunity to work is worth more to him than a pension, or any other kind of charity. The age in which we live is full of opportunities, and any man may grasp them, if he will.

The public crib is an inviting receptacle, and public servants are often captivated by the notion that the money flows into it by magic, but every dollar is contributed by the taxpayers of the state, and every unnecessary raid made upon it is simply another form of legalized socialism.

The state officials are distributing a million dollars a month now, and the army of employees on the payroll indicates that many able-bodied men are already on the pension roll, with more in sight.

The wisest thing the legislature could do, would be to place a limit on expenditures; and then cut the cloth to fit the garment. It would be possible in this way to create a pension fund, without calling on the taxpayers for more money.

This is called the age of the wanderlust because it is the age of travel, when trains and steamships are crowded to their capacity, and when the touring car is as much of a necessity as the carriage team was a few years ago. We are a restless people, and constantly on the go. The thrifty foreigner—and there are many such—comes to our shores and works for eight months, and then goes home to spend the winter with his family. It is an age of plenty, and in spite of the unrest, more people are independent today than ever before.

Specifications for the longest suspension bridge in the world have been presented to the board of supervisors at San Francisco. The length is nine and one-half miles and the structure will connect the Golden Gate City with Oakland. The stone piers will be some 2,000 feet apart, and the bridge will be 180 feet above the water. Plans and a cross section view appear in the February number of the Popular Mechanics magazine.

Training canary birds to sing in the electric death chamber of the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus, is the unique life work of John Atkinson, a murderer serving a life sentence who, being a "trustee," has the privilege of spending some of his time there. In the room in which more than four score condemned men have paid the penalty for their crimes, he breeds the little yellow singers. When the birds are at the proper age, he first teaches them to fly—first from one arm of the electric chair to another, and then from the death chair to the old galows above, in another part of the room. A picture in the February Popular Mechanics Magazine shows the convict working with the birds.

The report is current that Colonel Roosevelt is to write his autobiography, and it is he like other men it would be natural to suppose that he had decided to retire from public life as an office-seeker, but this can hardly be expected. The new progressive party, without the colonel, would be like a ship without a rudder, and he will doubtless be called upon to stay by the ship. Democracy stood it for a dozen years with Bryan, and the republican party is not destitute of vitality. The autobiography is liable to have an enlarged appendix.

It is to be regretted that the county board could not see its way clear to build the anti-tuberculosis sanatorium. The members who opposed it were doubtless influenced by the fact that the state is possessed of a mania to get rid of the people's money, and deemed it wise to call a halt. The Madison solons are not troubled in this way, and the state university is already clamoring for all kinds of appropriations.

The man Ettor, who was mixed up with the Lawrence strike, is now taking a hard as leader in New York City, where the garment workers, and waiters are out on a grievance. Ettor is reported to have advised the waiters to "dope" the food served to guests, if their demands were not recognized. The country can well afford to dispense with this class of anarchists.

"The Littlest Rebel" company, which plays a return engagement at the opera house tomorrow night, is entitled to the most liberal patronage because of the historical feature of the production. There is more civil war history in the story so vividly portrayed, than the average reader will absorb from books. The play is clean and wholesome and suggests texts for half a dozen sermons.

MOVES A SUBSTITUTE FOR THE SANATORIUM

SUPERVISOR M. P. RICHARDSON WOULD HAVE POORMASTER CARE FOR NEEDY TUBERCULAR PATIENTS.

ACTION IS POSTPONED

Board Defers Consideration of Matter Until April Meeting—Discussion on Aid for Blind—Other Matters.

Supervisor M. P. Richardson introduced a resolution at the session of the county board this morning which promised to resurrect the county proposition of the care of tubercular patients, but the matter was summarily disposed of on the motion of Supervisor Simon Smith that its consideration be postponed to the next board meeting in April.

Supervisor Richardson's resolution read as follows: That the poor masters be and are hereby instructed to provide tents or other suitable sleeping porches or shelter at the homes of indigent persons afflicted with tuberculosis, who are unable to provide such conveniences and are liable to become county charges; and that such provision be made on the certificate of the county physician that such tents or suitable shelter are necessary for the sick persons.

Mr. Richardson contended in explanation that this was the ideal plan of treatment according to Miss Tate and he was himself convinced of the fact that it would be a much less expensive system for the county. There was little discussion on the matter and the supervisors seemed disposed to dismiss the matter entirely.

Aid for Blind.

On the motion of Supervisor Richardson the sum of $2,000 was appropriated for the aid of needy blind persons in Rock county for the ensuing year. Some discussion on this matter followed and Supervisor Gettle presented a resolution providing that the committee be instructed to investigate the list of persons who were now receiving aid from this fund to ascertain whether they were now receiving incomes less than $200. This resolution was adopted by the board.

In the discussion preceding the adoption of the motion it was pointed out that there had been some question as to the need of several persons on the list who were getting the $100 county aid. This method was devised to regulate the matter as it was possible that the fortunes of some of the persons might be bettered by lottery or that they might have realized in other ways so that they would not be entitled to county money. County Clerk Lee stated that he had refused five applications since he had been clerk.

Increase in Salaries.

The board at its present session has been lenient in the matter of salary increases. On the motion of Supervisor Ronch the salary of Mahal C. Lee, deputy county clerk, was increased $15 a month. This went through without opposition and every member seemed pleased to take such action showing their appreciation of Miss Lee's services. The salary of the clerk of the probate court was also raised unanimously on a resolution introduced late yesterday afternoon. Supervisor Wilford moved that Poormaster George Seemiller receive a salary of $500 for the current year, an increase of $50, which was also adopted.

Other matters of minor importance were disposed of at the session this morning. H. W. Lee, county clerk, made an oral report in regard to his efforts to reduce the state tornado insurance on the county buildings. He read a letter from the state insurance commissioner's office which indicated that a settlement would probably be made lowering the amount of such insurance.

Church Makes Report.

Former county treasurer, A. M. Church, read his annual report for 1912 to the board at the opening of the session. At its close he took occasion to thank the supervisors for the courtesy which they had shown him and he declared that the associations which he had formed during his four years as a county servant would always be most pleasant. A wave of applause followed Mr. Church's address, an expression which is seldom seen at a board session.

Supervisor Glenson submitted a report of committee No. 12 on bridges in regard to construction work in the town of Union and an appropriation of $800 was made to cover the case on the county's part. Mr. Glenson also reported a bridge in the town of Fulton as completed in a satisfactory condition since the report of the committee in November.

The rules were suspended to allow the passage of a bill for the amount of $88 in favor of Under-sheriff E. H. Ransom as Rock county's share in returning R. W. Norrington, alleged forger, to justice in this county. The bankers' association will pay $50 of the expenses and Walworth county the remainder or a total of $224.14. Supervisor Rossow in introducing the motion stated that the man arrested was suspected to be guilty to his offense in the Beloit municipal court this afternoon.

Divorce Granted: Judge Grimm granted a divorce to Magpha A. Codman from her husband, Byron M. Codman, both of this city, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment in the circuit court Thursday afternoon. The plaintiff was also given the custody of the minor children and alimony of $4 a week.

Old Goods and New Goods --A Difference

If we were willing to carry over any goods in any department from one season to the next, then mingle them with the new goods and sell the whole stock as perfectly fresh, perhaps we would not care to call your attention so repeatedly to the fact that all our goods are the latest from the hands of the manufacturers. There is nothing kept over here—everything is sold at one price or another—this fact makes end-of-the-season opportunities for those who are willing to wait, but most important of all, those who buy in season may confidently rely upon buying the newest, the latest, the best. The new Spring attractions will soon be seen in every department of the store, they will permeate every nook and corner.

BUYERS SEARCHING FOR UNSOLD CROPS

Quiet Hunt is in Progress to Pick Up All Tobacco Not Yet Disposed of.

According to the Edgerton Tobacco Reporter, a quiet hunt for every stray lot of unsold tobacco still continues, that forces the conclusion of a disposition abroad to sweep the country districts clean of all grades of last season's growth. While the bulk of the late purchases are generally made on a stemming price basis, an unusual lot brings around earlier quotations. Each day witnesses a large amount of receiving done at delivery points and though some docking is practised very little is heard about it for adjustments are generally made on the farm.

The warehouses are now well organized at the packing points for a long season's work and the help situation is improving.

There is a moderate demand for old leaf of all descriptions, but transactions are mostly of a small order kind. The F. G. Borden Co. sold a 125c lot of '11 to L. Lewis & Co. of Newark.

The shipments out of storage reach about 400c from this market to all inside last report.

A January thaw that has been in progress a few days this week has furnished another casing spell of sufficient duration to permit growers to remove the last of the hanging tobacco for stripping. Quite a good many farmers, we learn, had some portions of their crops yet in the sheds when the soft weather came, especially in the northern growing sections, and it is possible the late case did not reach there. As a general thing, however, the season has proved an exceptional one for getting the tobacco from the curing sheds into the bundle for delivery. There has been less high case or wet tobacco for packers to contend with than the average season. A warm late fall, of course, helped greatly in curing out the stems, while almost perfect casing weather permitted farmers to get their tobacco down in prime condition. If any trouble is experienced in delivery it invariably does not arise from the condition which the crop comes to the packing houses from the farm this year.

ROAD COMMISSIONER READS HIS REPORT

C. E. MOORE TELLS OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR WORK DONE ON COUNTY HIGHWAYS.

NEED NEW MACHINERY

Action on Appropriation For One Or More Road Rollers Forecasted Before Adjournment This Afternoon.

County Highway Commissioner Charles E. Moore of the town of Magnolia, presented the fifth annual report of the commissioner at the session of the county board this afternoon. During the year 1912 the highway commissioner has had charge of the construction of twenty and a half miles of state and county aid highway for which a total of over $12,000 were raised. Of this amount there are $10,043 still unexpended owing to the fact that a large portion of the projected highways is still uncompleted.

Over $6,000 was spent on county highways for repairs according to the report leaving a balance in the repair fund of $4,649. The county highway system now comprises 124 miles all under the supervision of the road commissioner.

The report of the highway committee of the board was given in conjunction with the statement of the conditions of the county road affairs. They have worked together on the papers and memoranda of S. S. Jones, the highway commissioner, and have spent considerable time with the township chairman checking over the accounts.

It was anticipated that the board would take some action before adjournment late this afternoon on the matter of highway equipment as recommended by Mr. Moore and the committee. This would mean one or two new road rollers and possibly an appropriation for several road graders which, it has been stated are badly needed.

Following an itemized account of the money expended on the state aid highways in the various townships during the year of 1912, County Highway Commissioner C. E. Moore of the town of Magnolia, had the following to report to the board:

"Many of the roads constructed the past year and not completed, particularly in the towns of Janesville, Porters, Magnolia, Johnston, Clinton and Center. Nearly all the 1912 roads will need more or less dressing over in the spring. In several of the towns the funds have not been nearly all expended, and unless the law is changed at this session of the legislature, upon the completion of the roads for which the allotments were made as set forth in the petitions, these sums will revert back to the state, county and towns respectively. Therefore it is well to extend the work in each town sufficiently to take the entire allotment.

Roads Not Accepted.

"All roads built prior to the year 1912, except the 1911 road in the town of Clinton, the 1910 road extending east from Munger's corner on the Evansville and Oregon road, town of Union, road rough and uneven and drainage poor; the 1908 road on the Footville and Janesville road, beginning about the center of the north side of section 2 extending east 100 rods from the town of Plymouth, this road includes a plank floor bridge, the 1909 and 1911 roads on that portion of the River road known as Happy Hollow, town of Rock, material not binding; also, the 1911 Afton road in the town of Rock, which includes plank floor bridge; the 1908 and 1909 road on the Monroe road, town of Avon, repair work on bridges not completed; the 1909 road on the Milwaukee road west of the town hall in the town of Turtle, including a wooden culvert; also the 1911 Racine road in the town of Turtle, road furrowed and lacking in binding; the 1911 road on the Janesville-Magnolia road, town of Janesville, culvert not in and the 1910 road on Janesville-Edgerton road, not properly shouldered; that portion of the 1906 road east of Thos. Ford's residence, Evansville-Fulton road, town of Fulton.

"Your commissioner regrets that these roads are not in condition for acceptance, but recommends that the proper steps be taken to complete them in the ensuing year, as it will not be difficult to do so with several of them at least."

New Road Machinery.

Mr. Moore, in speaking of the problem of road construction asked the board for another new road roller and the repair of another which the county possesses, making a total of four rollers available. He reports as follows:

"Recognizing the fact that the care and maintenance of the accepted county roads is getting to be a bigger problem each succeeding year and that in some instances the proper overhauling and resurfacing is a crying necessity and, also, recognizing the fact that the prime cause of many of the defects in the roads already constructed is due to a lack of rolling at the proper time, therefore, your commissioner recommends that the necessary steps be taken by this board, either to overhaul the old Austin roller or more preferably to trade it in toward a new roller, and that also a roller be purchased for use in the northwestern section of the county. This district has heretofore been deprived of the use of one and it is known that the road rollers can be made of great service in the repair of roads already built and it is practically impossible to build even a gravel road that will present an even surface when solidified, unless the road has been rolled at the time of construction or soon after.

Value of Rollers.

"Indeed, where much grading and filling is done, no road ought to be built until the subgrade is rolled, in order to avoid unequal settling of the road after construction. It is particularly true that no stone road can be built in a first class manner unless the roller can be used constantly during the construction of the road. If these purposes are to be accomplished, Rock county needs the services of four road rollers. Your commissioner believes that within reasonable limits of expense, the well constructed is the economical road to build and the expense of purchase and operation of the necessary road rollers is trivial as compared with the total expense of all roads in construction."

"Your commissioner takes this occasion to warmly thank Committee No. 6 for its generous and helpful assistance in closing up the season's work, in checking over the accounts and in preparing this report."

Committee No. 6, composed of R. D. Treadway, Leolt, and P. M. Roach, Harmony, has worked together with Commissioner Moore in preparing their annual report on county highways and the latter's report is partly the work of the committee. The committee reported further:

Concur With Commissioner.

"Your committee wishes to say that in view of the peculiar circumstances due to the death of the late S. S. Jones, county commissioner, your committee has deemed it wise and proper to co-operate with your present commissioner of highways in the accounting of the funds and in the settlement of outstanding bills. We are pleased to state that we have acted together in absolute harmony in all matters. Therefore your committee will abbreviate this report in concurring with the remarks and recommendations contained in the commissioner's report. Therefore, your committee recommends the acceptance into the county highway system of such roads as are recommended by the commissioner of highways. It also recommended the overhauling of the old Austin roller and the purchase of a new one as stated in the report, and that definite action be taken with regard to such roads constructed during the year 1912 as are not now ready for acceptance, with a view to either incorporate them in the county system ultimately or reject them altogether.

"Your committee recommends that all balances in the 1911 road fund that may not be needed for the completion of roads not accepted be reversed back to the towns according to the respective portions, and that the county's portion of said funds be transferred to the county highway repair fund."

FIND ICE IS TO THIN FOR PACKING PURPOSES

City Ice Company Marks Off a Field But Does Not Attempt to Cut Out Blocks.

Ice in the Rock river is yet too thin to cut and pack. The City Ice Company cleared off a field and marked it last Wednesday but found that the ice was too thin to cut and pack for it is not six inches thick. The thaw has made the field unsafe for working and retarded operations. Unless there are some weeks of cold weather the ice crop in this part of the state promises to be short and next season's prices high.

TODAY'S EDGERTON NEWS

Edgerton, Wis., January 17.—The high school basketball team will play Columbus this evening. The boys took the early train this morning to that place. The game will be the first of the season. The school has been playing the game since last year by the same line-up. Captain Sutton has worked his men hard this week in training so a good game is expected. The final examinations close in the public schools today. The students have been busy all the week preparing for and writing on examinations. Next week the new semester starts. Most students being able to go on with their new work.

Mr. Frank McCrea, manual training instructor in the local high school, has resigned his position as teacher in that work here. He has had a better offer to work in a school in Des Moines, Iowa so he leaves Monday for that city. The manual training students will be grieved to hear of this for Mr. McCrea was liked by all who received instructions under him. It is not known at the present writing who will fill his position.

"THE LITTLEST REBEL." Edward... People's war-play in which A. H. Woods is presenting Mr. Marshall Farum strongly in evidence, there is always will play a return engagement at a smile to follow a tear. Rowland Myers Theatre, Saturday January 18, matinee and evening. The play met with much success last season at the Chicago Opera House and Liberty Theatre New York under the same management. The story concerns the little Virgie Cary, whose father is a Confederate scout upon whose head there is a reward. The little girl who saw her mother die and their home burn, lives alone and hungry in a little cabin on the mountain side a few miles from Richmond. Her father comes on one of his hunted visits to see his child, he has been pursued and wounded. A detail of cavalry men under the command of Lieut. Col. Morrison surround the cabin, and the scout hides in a loft. The Confederates and the Northern soldiers. Instead of finding the dangerous scout, discover a little girl sitting alone at a table playing with her rag doll. With arch baby talk and adorable courage she fools the "Yanks" but she is outwitted by the gentlemanly colonel who discovers the hiding place of her father.

Through the plea of the little girl the colonel relents and furnishes Cary with a pass as escort for the little girl through her Federal lines in Richmond.

Later in the day a battle ensues in which Cary saves the life of the Northern colonel. They are betrayed and brought to headquarters as prisoners, Cary as a spy and Col. Morrison as a traitor, and sentenced to death. The Littlest Rebel, as Virgie is called, appears before General Grant and pleads for the life of both men. So clever and sympathetic is her plea that the general becomes interested and makes a personal investigation of the case upon which the men are pardoned.

"BEVERLY." When Gerge Barr McCutcheon's "Beverly" was presented in Pittsburg the attendance was so great that after Tuesday night every seat in the house was sold for all the remaining performances and an extra performance was given on Saturday morning to a crowded house. While it has not been necessary to play a morning performance in the other cities, the fact remains that "Beverly" has been greeted by crowded houses in every city and town where the company has appeared, and the result will probably be the same here on Sunday January 19, matinee and evening at Myers Theatre as there is an unusual amount of interest manifested in the engagement among the classes of theater patrons.

"THE DIVORCE QUESTION." Wm. Anthony McGuire's gripping play is to appear at Myers Theatre Saturday February 1, matinee and evening special return engagement.

In the belief that encouragement or sanction of divorce menaces society generally the author spiritedly portrays the picturesque lives of social outcasts, taking his story from actual life incidents that had come to his notice in Chicago. The writer shows a thorough knowledge of his subject and has staged a most realistic appeal to the sober thinking play-going people of our day. There may be those who favor divorce as a means of escaping unhappy marital relations but when the children are taken into consideration, Mr. McGuire strongly contends they are entitled to the protection of their parents.

of their enjoyable dancing parties last night at Drake's hall. Smiley's orchestra of Janesville furnished the music.

Col. Hartshorn of Tiffany was calling on friends here yesterday. This was his first trip to Clinton for some time.

GAZETTE WILL HAVE CORRECT MAPS.

There has been some question regarding the correctness of the various parcels maps showing the units and zones that the Gazette has held off securing a supply for its patrons and friends until such time as it is certain that the government map and those made therefrom were correct.

Within a very short time the matter will be settled definitely and the Gazette will have maps to supply its patrons and friends with and will make the announcement as soon as such a map has been secured.

THE DAILY NOVELETTE

ALL FOR A NICKEL

The clerk in the all-you-can-drink-for-a-nickel soda emporium leaned drowsily against a bottle of chocolate extract.

"S'been a dull day," he yawned.

Hardly had the words left his teeth when Claribel Annhouser tripped into the shop. (The door mat was a little loose.)

"Is it true, what it says on the sign?" she said briefly.

"Yes," answered the clerk; "all true and a yard wide, if your capacity is equal to it. Nickel first." And he gazed at her. For, verily, she was a peach, with the complexion of a rosebud and a crepe de chine gown that fitted like a breeze.

"I'll start off with root beer," she said softly.

He started her off with root beer. She drank twelve glasses.

"Now I think I shall try some chocolate soda," she said.

He tried her with chocolate soda. She drank sixteen glasses.

"A little lemon phosphate, please," she giggled, not because of the excess liquid, but because that was her way of speaking.

Handing his business wrist to keep it from wobbling, he turned on the lemon. She drank eighteen glasses.

Ninety-four glasses had gone down the great front way and the clerk was breathing hard but game, when a form darkened the doorway.

"Hay, you!" he called to the clerk.

"Whatcha mean by trying to gum up tonight's performance? Don't you know that's Charles Annhouser, the lady tank at the Dime Museum that you're waitin' on?"

With a jar of blackberry juice clasped to his breast, the clerk fell behind the counter in a swoon as she tripped (the mat was still loose) out of the shop on her manager's arm.

Start Your Baby With Sound Health

Regular Bowel Movement from Childhood on Forestalls Future Serious Diseases.

DIXIE ASKEW DUDLEY.

We cannot all start life with the advantages of money, but every child born is entitled to the heritage of good health. Through unfortunate ignorance or carelessness in the feeding of a baby its tiny stomach may become deranged. The disorder spreads to the bowels and before the mother realizes it the two chief organs on which the infant's comfort and health depend are causing it great suffering. If the condition is allowed to continue grave ailments often result.

There is, however, no occasion for alarm, and the sensible thing to do—but it should be done instantly—is to give the baby a small dose of a mild laxative tonic. In the opinion of a great many people, among them such well known persons as the parents of Dixie Dudley, Magnolia, Ark., the proper remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Mrs. Earl Dinsley writes: Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the best medicine I ever used. It cured my baby of flatulency colic when the doctors failed; it cured my husband of constipation. My home shall never be without Syrup Pepsin. It is a pleasant-tasting laxative, which every person likes. It is mild, non-gripping and contains that most excellent of all digestants, pepsin.

This remedy is especially intended for infants, children, women, old people and all others to whom harsh cathartics, salt waters, pills, etc., are distressing. In fact, in the common disorders of life, such as constipation, liver trouble, indigestion, biliousness, headaches, and the various other disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels nothing is more suitable than this mild laxative- tonic, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Two generations of people are using it today and thousands of families keep it constantly in the house, for every member of the family can use it. It can be obtained of any druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, the latter being the size bought by families who already know its value. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to V. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

WILL SELECT POSTMASTER BY POPULAR ELECTION

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Marion, Ky., Jan. 17.—To decide which one of several rival aspirants shall be postmaster under the Wilson administration, this city has fixed upon the novel expedient of holding a special election at which the citizens may make the choice. A regulation ballot bearing the names of the different aspirants has been printed for the election, which will take place tomorrow. United States Senator-elect Ollie James has announced that he will endorse the man receiving the most votes.

WANTS STATE FAIR MOVED TO THE CAPITAL CITY

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Madison, Jan. 17.—Madison will make a fight to have the state fair moved to this city. The movement, however, does not originate in the capitol, as much as in more remote sections of the state. Assemblyman J. D. Miller of Menasha says there is talk of moving the fair to Madison or some place in the Fox River valley. The question of the location must be settled before any appropriation is made for new state fair buildings.

AGED RESIDENT OF ROCK COUNTY DEAD

George Letts, Aged 86, Died at Home of His Daughter in Calvinville Center Today.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Calvinville, Center, Jan. 17.—George Letts, one of the oldest residents of Rock county, where he has resided for over fifty years, died today at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. B. Andrew in this village. The deceased was eighty-six years of age, and was born August 31, 1826. His death was due to the infirmities of old age. He has been ailing and confined to his bed since last June. Last Friday he fell out of his bed and the effects of the fall hastened his demise. He was the only surviving member of a family of nine children. He leaves to mourn his loss, three daughters and one son: Mrs. W. B. Andrew with whom he was living at the time of his death and Mrs. A. F. Townsend of Calvinville Center; Mrs. Maggie Cotton of South Dakota; and Will Letts of Calvinville Center. There are also several grandchildren and a number of other relatives. Mr. Letts was a kind and loving husband and father, and a highly respected and Christian citizen. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at one o'clock from the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. B. Andrew and later from the A. C. church. Elder Jenks of Aurora will officiate.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS SPEND TWO MILLIONS

Tobacco and Liquor are Large Items
Estimated at $51,000—$450 Yearly Per Student is Average.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., Jan. 17.—Two million dollars are spent in Madison by university students annually according to figures compiled by senior students working on "College Expenses." Four thousand men and women attend the institution this year and it is estimated that $450 per student per year for expenses is a conservative reckoning, and that some liberal individuals spend as high as $1,200 in nine months.

Board costs more than any other one item, some $612,000 being spent for this obligation in the Latin quarter. Room rent totals $260,000. Books and school supplies amount to $80,000 more. Tobacco for the men will total close to $31,000 and wines and liquors are said to cost $20,000. Men's furnishings and haberdashers receive some $180,000 from the "studies." These figures do not take into account the large amount of money spent by men at theatres, parties and other entertainments. Such expenses are figured to reach $92,000 annually. It is estimated that $50,000 is spent on the annual junior promenade alone.

Heart to Heart Talks

By JAMES A. EDGERTON

REAPING THE HARVEST.

In the long run we all get what is coming to us.
We are paid in our own coin. We reap as we sow. Our chickens come home to roost.
This is true of nations as of individuals.

There has been much in the public prints concerning the horrors of the Balkan war. Yet these horrors are but the bloody harvest of long centuries of oppression and cruelty.
Turkey is reaping as she has sown.
There is poetic justice in the fact that the little nations that have become the messengers of justice were formerly, with one exception, under Turkish rule. The exception is Montenegro, and she suffered much from attempted Turkish aggression.

Thus the avengers have arisen practically from the offender's own household.
The Ottoman empire sowed the wind and is reaping a whirlwind finish. History is full of such instances.
We shudder over the reign of terror of the French revolution, but fail to recall the years of despotism, blotched red here and there with St. Bartholomew massacres, of which the reign of terror was but the ripened fruit.

We behold something of the same force of justice at work in our own civil war. Abraham Lincoln pointed out the moral in his beautiful second inaugural.
There is a law of balance at work in the physical universe, where effect equals cause to the uttermost fraction. In the human world we call the correspondence of this law recompense or justice. Evidence is not lacking that it works with the same precision as cause and effect in the material universe. Could we see far enough and deep enough this would doubtless appear an absolute truth.

Whatever you sow you will reap—some time and somewhere.
Otherwise the law of balance would not hold true, and if this law were disturbed even by the traction of an ounce the universe would go crashing into chaos and ruin.
When a man's deeds come home to him we say in the slang of the day, "He is getting his." It is "his" too. He has earned it.
What are you sowing? What will your harvest be?

Dangerous Wax.

Not many persons know that the preserving wax used in jellies is highly explosive. It should be placed in a small teapot, and the vessel must be only half full when ready for use. Be careful of the drip when replacing it on the stove. Several accidents this season have proclaimed its dangerous features.

BILL TO PROHIBIT CHARGES ON LOANS

Closer Regulation on Bank Officials
Object of Hurlbut Measure—
Bill to Prevent Unfair Competition.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., Jan. 17.—A closer ban on the operation of bank directors and officials is proposed in a bill to come into the Wisconsin assembly next Wednesday, by William E. Hurlbut of Winnebago county. It regulates the acts of bank officials in loaning money. Mr. Hurlbut contends that in many cases these officials have been the cause of poor people losing money on loans.

Prevent Loan Charges.
His bill would make it unlawful for any officer, agent or employ of any bank in Wisconsin to either directly or indirectly exact compensation for making, obtaining or extending a loan. It will also provide that no person shall receive any greater compensation for the use of money or for loaning money than shall be stated in the instrument evidencing the loan, if it be evidenced by any written instrument.

In favor of this bill it is claimed that in some of the larger cities loans for a definite amount are made at a regular rate of interest, but only a part of the money specified in the loan is delivered to the person asking for it. Hurlbut claims this is but a clever method of evading the law prohibiting the exacting of interest greater than 12 percent.

To Prohibit Underselling.
Speaker Meritt Hall said today that before next Wednesday he would have a bill drafted prohibiting unfair competition to kill business rivals. This bill, popularly known as the "anti-discrimination bill," has been offered at three successive sessions by Mr. Hall. The idea embodied in the proposed law was adopted in the platform of the three leading national parties last year.

The essence of the bill is that a concern selling its products for a price in one locality must sell them for the same price in another. The bill will prohibit underselling in one field to drive out a competitor. In some localities it is the common practice for buyers to extort a higher price in some locality where they had no competition, and sell below market cost in another locality where competition exists. Speaker Hall said the principle of his bill was contained in a law adopted in South Dakota two years ago, which has just been sustained by the United States supreme court.

Change in Fishing Laws.
Changes in the fishing laws of the state are proposed in two bills to be introduced in the senate by Senator M. P. White of Winnebago county. "The most important bill will provide for appropriation of $25,000 out of the fish and game fund to be used in taking rough fish out of the waters of Lakes Poygwin, Winnebago, Koshong, Little Butte-des-Morts, the rivers connecting these lakes, and the Fox river in Winnebago county.

Senator White says that 95 per cent of rough fish in these waters are dog fish and eel pout. He says that the latter fish eats from 50 to 75 minnows a day. His law proposes to remove these destructive rough fish and is intended to better the fishing conditions for game fish in these waters. Senator White's statistics show that Winnebago county contributes about $25,000 biennially to the state fish and game fund. The appropriation of this money will only be a return of the money to the county.

Senator White also will introduce a bill providing that all fish caught on lines set for sturgeon shall not be thrown back, as the present law requires.

BANKING REFORM SUBJECT OF MINNESOTA DEBATE

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Chicago, Ill., Jan. 17.—Student debaters representing the University of Michigan, University of Chicago and Northwestern University engage tonight in their annual triangular forensic tilt. Each institution is represented in the contest by two teams, one to debate at home and the other abroad. The subject selected for the debate is: "Resolved, That the plan of banking reform proposed by the national monetary commission should be adopted by Congress."

CRISIS TO BE REACHED IN UNIONIST CONTROVERSY

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
London, Jan. 17.—The course of action to be taken by the Lancashire division of the National Unionist Association at its adjourned annual meeting to be held in Manchester tomorrow is the staple topic of discussion today among politicians of all parties. The meeting will mark the crisis in the controversy that threatens the disruption of the Unionist Party. In Unionist circles it is admitted that the Manchester meeting will decide the fate of Bonar Law as the party leader. According to the general belief Mr. Bonar Law is certain to resign his leadership if any resolution calling for a referendum on food taxes or for a second general election is carried at the meeting, or if a resolution is passed criticising the recent management of the party.

FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS IS STOLEN FROM FARMER

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Omaha, Neb., Jan. 17.—H. W. Custer, a farmer of Titonic, Ia., today reported to the police the loss of $4,000 from his satchel while enroute here from Denver.

WOULD RAISE SALARY OF SUPREME COURT CLERK

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., Jan. 17.—Assemblyman K. A. Johnson of Columbia county believes that the salary of the clerk of the supreme court should be fixed at $3,500, and early next week will introduce a bill to this effect. At present the clerk receives a per diem salary of $5 per day while the court is in session, together with the fees of the office. Some lawyers contend that the fees amount to several thousand dollars. Assemblyman Johnson thinks the state should fix a definite amount and that all fees should be turned into the general fund of the state. Another fee question will arise by the introduction of a bill directing that all fees retained by the county clerk for hunting licenses shall be turned into the county treasury.

NATIONAL GUARD MEMBERS VACCINATED FOR TYPHOID

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., Jan. 17.—About 1,000 members of the National Guard of Wisconsin have been vaccinated today by the past year with anti-typoid vaccine, according to the report of Dr. M. P. Ravenel, director of the state hygienic laboratory, which has just been filed with President Van Hise of the university. The outbreak of typhoid in soldiers' camps has been so common throughout the country that Dr. Ravenel recommended to the surgeon general of the Wisconsin national guards that its members be vaccinated. The serum used is claimed to render them immune from the disease. Nearly all of the members of the different companies signified willingness to be vaccinated. Aside from these vaccinations against typhoid nearly 1,000 cases have been administered to other individuals.

PICKED WRESTLERS COMPETE FOR ATHLETIC UNION TITLE

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Chicago, Ill., Jan. 17.—Several score of picked wrestlers representing the principal athletic clubs of this section of the country have gathered in Chicago to take part in the annual championships of the Central Amateur Athletic Union. The contests are slated for the Illinois Athletic Club, beginning with the elimination bouts tomorrow, and concluding with the finals tomorrow. The titles in all divisions from bantam to heavyweight are to be decided.

Tones of Insects.
An investigator, given to the collection of curious data, has observed that there are at least three different tones emitted by insects; a low one during flight, a higher one when the wings are held in such manner that they do not vibrate, and a yet higher tone when the insect is held so that none of its limbs can be moved. This last, it is pointed out, is the "voice proper" of the insect. In some cases it is produced by the stigmata of the thorax.

Castor Oil for Palms.
Four or five drops of castor oil allowed to trickle down into the heart of a palm will remove the scales. Apply the dose about once a week. Luke-warm soapuds should be used to wash off the dead scales. Then rinse in cold water. This is an excellent remedy for a common plant ailment.—New Idea Magazine.

Good and Bad Critics.
The great difference between good critics and bad is that the good ones are always learning and the bad ones are always teaching.

The Admonition To Be Good

DON'T play with naughty boys," the mother said, as she buttoned up her little son's coat, put on his cap, and lovingly looked after him, as he dashed out into the street.

Then she turned her attention to her visitor. In a little while, she rose and went to the window.

"I declare," she said impatiently. "There is James playing with those Nelson boys. I've told him time and time again, he's not to play with them." She threw open the window. "James, come here."

James stood undecided a moment. But finally, he yielded. "Didn't I tell you not to play with naughty boys?" she said, as he came reluctantly in. "You're a bad, bad boy. Take off your hat and coat, and sit in that chair for punishment."

James howled. "The idea! A big boy like you crying. And before a visitor, too! Aren't you ashamed of yourself! Now stop at once."

And so it went. Her method of training was altogether one of prohibition. James was eternally told what not to do, but never why. And being a reasoning animal, even though yet a small one, he rebelled.

He had no conception of why he should not play with these boys beyond the fact that they were "naughty." This meant nothing to him. The one fact that stood out more distinctly than all others was that he had more fun with them than with any other boys. And in comparison with this, "Naughty" with no explanation, was pale and anemic.

He'll probably grow up to be a willful, disobedient boy, unless some good within himself asserts itself, or other influences shape him.

For a child is a reasoning being, and his reasoning faculties are ready for action long before many a mother gives them credit for being. And if the mother doesn't appeal to these faculties and range them on her side, they'll go over to the enemy.

A child also has much love and good in him. And had this mother explained in a reasonable way why she didn't want her son to play with these boys, he probably wouldn't have done it. If she had gone about it in the right way she could have taken the desire to play with them away from him. She could also have awakened his love and loyalty for her, so that these would have joined in the fight to keep him from evil associates.

With a bright, active child, full of life, mere prohibition, or the simple admonition to be good, is seldom enough to keep his little feet in the right path. Right and wrong are too abstract for his childish mind. But give him something in the way of reason to engage it, awaken the love and the good that is in him, and he'll walk proudly and self-reliantly in the path whither he is sent.

Eggs en aspic are slices or whole hard-boiled eggs, set in aspic jelly and left to harden.

Omelette aux Leutres—Plain omelette with oysters in white sauce turned over and around.

Materials—Porterhouse steak, 3-4 lbs.; shad whitefish, eggs, chops or chicken; mashed potatoes, 3 pints; tomatoes, 2 pints; peas, 1 can; lemon, one-half; parsley.

Utensils—Eighteen-inch plank, potato ricer, two stew pans, vegetable knife, pastry bag and tube.

Directions—Select a porterhouse steak at least one and three-fourths inches thick and cut into four-inch strips. Cut the steak into four-inch strips. Cut the steak into four-inch strips. Cut the steak into four-inch strips.

Wipe this with a cloth wrung out of cold water and remove any extra fat. Peel and boil sufficient potatoes to make the required amount, three pints, when mashed and seasoned.

Put the steak into the broiler or pan and broil it from seven to ten minutes. In the meantime the plank should be in the oven heating and the potatoes done by the time the steak is ready.

Butter the plank, lay in the partly cooked steak, and with the pastry bag fill with the potatoes, arrange a border close to the edge of the plank of potato roses. Put into a hot oven and finish cooking the steak and brown the potatoes. While this is being done, cook and season the peas and broil halves of small tomatoes. Remove the steak when done and put around it at equal distances the tomatoes and peas, and on top of the steak pour over melted butter seasoned with salt, paprika, Harvey sauce and finely chopped parsley. Sauté mushroom caps are very nice on the top. The tomatoes or green peppers may be stuffed if preferred. Vegetables should be in reserve in dishes for extra serving. This will serve four people.

Cheese Fondue. Materials—Hot milk, 1-2 cups; soft stale bread crumbs, 1-3 cups; cheese (grated), 1-2 cups; butter, 1 tablespoonful; eggs, 4; salt, 1-2 teaspoonful; paprika or cayenne.

Utensils—Measuring cup, measuring spoon, tablespoon, grater, bowls, egg beater, double boiler, baking dish.

Directions—Mix with bread crumbs, salt, paprika, butter and cheese with the milk in the double boiler; remove from the fire and add the yolks of eggs well beaten and fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake 20 minutes in a moderate oven. Protein value equal to 1-2 pounds of potato and beef. Food value much more.

Cheese dishes may be grouped under the following heads:

1—Cheese dishes which may serve as meat substitutes.

2—Cheese soups and vegetables cooked with cheese.

3—Cheese salads, sandwiches, and similar dishes.

4—Cheese pastry, cheese balls, cheese sweets and similar dishes.

The best flavorings with cheese dishes may be varied by the following: Onion, salt or grated onion, olives, sweet green pepper, pimientos (Spanish sweet peppers), paprika and cayenne.

Fancy Pastry. Material—Pastry flour, two cups; butter, one cup; salt, one-half teaspoonful; ice water, one-half cup.

Utensils—Large bowl, spatula, marble slab or pastry board, rolling pin, pans, measuring cup, teaspoon, chopping knife.

Directions—Sift the flour with hot water and fill with cold, adding a small piece of ice. Measure and wash the butter in this, first dipping the hands in hot water to keep the butter from sticking. When well washed until it feels waxy, divide into four parts. Pat three of them until thin and round, wrap in cheesecloth or an old napkin, and place in a pan between two pans of ice. Remove the water from the bowl; add flour, salt and one of the parts of butter. Chop or cut this into the flour and then gradually add the ice water; it may be necessary to add a little more or less, but just enough so it can be taken up clean from the bowl.

Flour the board or dish, pat with the rolling-pin into a flat cake and roll out until half an inch thick. Lay one part of the butter on the middle of the paste. Fold the sides toward the middle, then the ends over; cover with a bowl and let stand five minutes. Roll out as before and continue until between each roll. Chill whenever the butter softens.

After the last rolling, fold as before, place in cheesecloth, set in a dish and cover. Place in the coldest part of the refrigerator until ready to roll out and shape. Bake in a very hot oven, underneath heat, as it is the expansion of cold air in the pastry while baking that will make a light and flaky pastry. This pastry is used for patties, shells, French pastries, etc., for desserts.

When well washed until it feels waxy, divide into four parts. Pat three of them until thin and round, wrap in cheesecloth or an old napkin, and place in a pan between two pans of ice. Remove the water from the bowl; add flour, salt and one of the parts of butter. Chop or cut this into the flour and then gradually add the ice water; it may be necessary to add a little more or less, but just enough so it can be taken up clean from the bowl.

Flour the board or dish, pat with the rolling-pin into a flat cake and roll out until half an inch thick. Lay one part of the butter on the middle of the paste. Fold the sides toward the middle, then the ends over; cover with a bowl and let stand five minutes. Roll out as before and continue until between each roll. Chill whenever the butter softens.

After the last rolling, fold as before, place in cheesecloth, set in a dish and cover. Place in the coldest part of the refrigerator until ready to roll out and shape. Bake in a very hot oven, underneath heat, as it is the expansion of cold air in the pastry while baking that will make a light and flaky pastry. This pastry is used for patties, shells, French pastries, etc., for desserts.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

LETTING THE CHILDREN HELP.
CHILDREN are not allowed to take enough part in the home life. Even babies two or three years old can be taught to help about the home.

"A child can do little errands before it can talk." These are some of the conclusions of one of the prominent educators in an Eastern city.

Don't you think they are interesting?

I do, and I think it is strange that more has not been said on this subject before, for if there is one lesson of life that this generation seems to be learning, it is the lesson that labor is one of the greatest sources of happiness and that life without labor is quite as unhappy as life with nothing but labor. Every day we read in the newspapers of women of wealth and standing who are no longer content with the idleness of social life, but take on some profession or some cause. Look about you, among your own humble circle, and you will see that many women who twenty years ago would have been discontented idlers, are now busy and happy. And little young men, no matter how great their wealth, are coming to be exceptions.

Why, then, should the children, that part of the race that by every law of life has the right to be happiest, be deprived of this source of happiness? Of course, it is a tradition that childhood should be one of long play-time, but since we have found that it may be the same with children, why can we not realize that it may be the same with adults. Take away the toll from a life and the play-time loses half its sweetness.

This educator declares that she has seen a child of two and a half taught to help set the table, and happier in this task than in any of her amusements. To the mother who devotes half of her waking time simply to keeping a child of that age out of mischief that sounds incredible. And yet, why should it be? Children understand a great deal more than they can make us realize. When a child begins to talk we are astonished to find how much he must have been observing and thinking before he could speak. And children do not necessarily prefer to employ their energy and intelligence in mischief. It is only when their elders fail to find other occupation for this activity that it makes its own channels.

Then why not utilize some of this energy? Of course it will be more labor than help at first, but not for long. A child's ability to help grows rapidly when it is fertilized by sympathetic teaching and watered by love. Besides, while you are filling your little plot of ground with herbs of helpfulness you are keeping out the weeds of mischief.

Labor and the joy of service are two of the greatest blessings of life. Surely you cannot begin too early to help your child enter on this precious heritage of happiness.

Material—Pastry flour, two cups; butter, one cup; salt, one-half teaspoonful; ice water, one-half cup.

Utensils—Large bowl, spatula, marble slab or pastry board, rolling pin, pans, measuring cup, teaspoon, chopping knife.

Directions—Sift the flour with hot water and fill with cold, adding a small piece of ice. Measure and wash the butter in this, first dipping the hands in hot water to keep the butter from sticking. When well washed until it feels waxy, divide into four parts. Pat three of them until thin and round, wrap in cheesecloth or an old napkin, and place in a pan between two pans of ice. Remove the water from the bowl; add flour, salt and one of the parts of butter. Chop or cut this into the flour and then gradually add the ice water; it may be necessary to add a little more or less, but just enough so it can be taken up clean from the bowl.

ADD TO AVAILABLE FUNDS OF COUNTY

Transfer of $2,500 Idle Money in Highway Fund to General Fund Relieves Stringency.

Rock county's poverty and financial stringency, which is chronic at this time of the year, has received unexpected relief. By a resolution passed by the board late Thursday afternoon, the sum of $2,500 was transferred from the highway fund to the general fund. This money was a sum which has been collecting in the treasury for the past few years owing to the fact that the county has raised an amount larger than the various townships for the purpose of highway construction. The sum thus accruing has now been made accessible for the payment of general claims against the county.

Although the county treasurer has borrowed $9,000 from the bank in accordance with a resolution of the board in November, this amount has been practically expended and the county would be in a serious condition without the transfer at this time which comes as a welcome relief to tide over affairs until the tax levy is turned in.

An objection was interposed by Supervisor Ronch that it would be better to transfer the amount into the highway repair fund but it was deemed expedient to dispose of it according to the resolution which was passed unanimously.

A Medical Book Free

By Dr. N. A. Goddard

Modern Methods of treating Chronic Diseases without Operation, has just come from the pen of Dr. Goddard the Milwaukee Specialist and is one of the most interesting as well as instructive little books the doctor has ever written.

If you are a sufferer from Appendicitis, Rupture, Gall Stone, Colic, Gout, or Chronic diseases of a private nature, you should avail yourself of this valuable little book free simply for the asking. A postal will bring it to you, in a plain wrapper. Many so-called surgical cases, have been proven to be curable by medical treatment, more safely, more easily and cheaply by modern medical methods than was believed possible a few years ago.

After you have read this little book, you can consult Dr. Goddard in his monthly visits to Janesville, free of charge and have the satisfaction of knowing that you have secured the expert opinion of a reputable specialist in those matters. If you have been advised to submit to an operation, surely do not fail to consult him before undergoing such an operation. His advice may save you many weeks of suffering, loss of time and expense, possibly your life. Dr. Goddard will be at the Myers Hotel, Janesville, Tuesday, Jan. 28th, and he makes no charges for a friendly visit. Hours 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

TOWN LINE

Town Line, Beloit and Rock, Jan. 16.—Henry Knopes is enjoying a visit from his brother, Harry Knopes of Asotin, Wash., who came Monday for a visit of about a month's duration. This is Mr. Knopes' first visit to Wisconsin and the brothers have not met before for a number of years. Mr. Knopes was a large sheep rancher of 2,000 acres. Beside that the sheep have a range of a couple thousand acres more of government land. His herd usually numbers over three thousand head. Mr. Knopes thinks that he likes Washington better than Wisconsin, about one week of winter being all they experience there.

Albert Eddy is helping William Devoe unload a carload of buckwheat at Edw.

Edw. Jones of Libertyville, Ill., was the over Sunday guest of his brother, Roy G. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones of Berlin, Wis., are making an extended visit at the home of their cousin, Frank Jond.

M. J. Plum, who has been seriously sick with grippe and complication for more than two weeks, is slightly improved and able to sit up for a few minutes each day.

Mrs. H. W. Harstad, who has been quite sick, as have other members of the family, is improving.

Mrs. D. Behling has been on the sick list.

Eddy Walters is recovering from an attack of the grippe.

D. Knopes of Janesville spent Tuesday with his brother, Henry Knopes.

Six teams were required to draw John Linde's tobacco crop to Janesville Wednesday. Others who have delivered are Henry Knopes and Roy Jones.

Roy Jones' team took a lively run Wednesday morning while he was loading tobacco at the shed at Mr. Linde's. A plank fell down from the shed striking one of the horses.

When the team started to run the reins were jerked off the wagon and Mr. Jones, who was on the hay rack, decided, as he had no way to control the team, that his safety lay in jumping from the wagon, which he did. They ran through the tobacco field, cleared a woven wire fence, barely missing a telephone pole. As soon as they were in the road they ran for home, but some neighbors succeeded in catching them by the bits before they had run far. There was no damage except that the rack was slightly broken.

NEW GLARUS

Rev. Freymeyer was entertained at Cooper's Sunday evening. He also called at Frank Sherman's before leaving for Lima.

A number of crops of tobacco are being delivered through here this week.

The Y. P. C. U. party at Frank Sherman's on Friday evening, given by Mrs. Sherman's side to Mrs. Brown's, was a very pleasant affair. About thirty were present and after a supper consisting of brick ice cream and cakes, the following post prandial program was given, Mrs. Frank Sherman acting as toastmistress:

Music..... Ruth Richardson

Toast, To Our Visitors..... Harriet Park

Response..... Mrs. F. B. Sherman

Toast, To the Winning Side..... Sherman

Response..... Geo. H. Sherman

Toast, To Our Society..... Miss Cooper

Response..... Mr. Freymeyer

Toast, To Our New Members..... Miss Violet Park

Response..... Mr. Henry Pierce

Toast Loyalty to Our Society.....

After the program the young people played games until a plate of candy was ready for each one present to partake.

A prize was offered for the one making the most natural looking object out of his taffy. By a vote of the crowd this was given to Miss Harriet Park. At one o'clock the party broke up, all claiming to have enjoyed the evening very much.

To Whom Should We Speak?

By REV. HOWARD W. POPE,
Superintendent of the Meady Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—Jeremiah 1:6-7: Then said I, Ah, Lord God! behold, I cannot speak: for I am a child. But the Lord said unto me, Say not, I am a child: for thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee thou shalt speak.

There is no rule of universal application, but one must consider the age, sex, and general condition of those whom he approaches.

Uncle John Vassar was accustomed to speak to every person whom he met on the subject of religion, but his rule might not be the best one for all. He was a man of years and experience, and he could hold his own with people whom a younger person could not so successfully deal with. On one occasion he accosted two ladies in a hotel in Boston and inquired if they were Christians. "Certainly," they replied. "Have you been born again?" he asked.

"This is Boston," said the ladies, "and you know that we do not believe in that doctrine here."

Uncle John opened his Bible and showed them what God has to say about the subject, and in a short time all three were on their knees. When her husband returned at night, one of the ladies told him about her encounter with Uncle John.

"I wish I had been here," said the man.

"What would you have done?" asked his wife.

"I would have told him to go about his business."

"But, husband, if you had been here, I think you would have said that he was about his business."

That was a true estimate of Uncle John Vassar. He made it "his business" to witness for Christ always and everywhere. Let us make it our business to witness for the master at all times, and in all places. It may not seem best to speak to every one whom we meet, but we should at least be willing to do so, if God requires it. Whether he does or not, can usually be determined by asking him.

Mr. Moody's Rule.

When Mr. Moody was just beginning to do Christian work, he promised God that he would speak to one person at least on the subject of religion, every day for a year. He kept his promise faithfully until the last day of the year. That night as he was about to retire, he remembered that he had not spoken to any one that day on the all-important question. It was rather late, but he did not wish to break his record, and so he rushed out into the street, and hailing the first person whom he met, he inquired if he was a Christian. The man told him it was none of his business, and added some other remarks not altogether complimentary.

Mr. Moody returned to his room thinking that he had made a fool of himself, and that probably he had hurt the cause which he meant to help. One of his friends who had heard of the incident rebuked him sharply, and told him that he must stop speaking to people in such an abrupt way, or he would make himself obnoxious.

God evidently took a different view of the matter, for in a few days the man whom he addressed so abruptly sought him out, apologized for the way in which he had abused him, told him that he had had no peace since that night on account of his sins, and asked him to show him the way of salvation. If we listen to the devil he will tell us that any kind of Christian work is foolish. Let us listen to God alone.

Begin at Home.

It is so much easier to speak to others than to those of our own household, that they are liable to be overlooked, but we certainly have a duty at home which we cannot afford to neglect. If our life has been inconsistent, we had better confess it frankly before we talk to others about their life. If we wait until we are perfect before we begin, we shall never begin. Remember that all God's work is done by imperfect workmen.

Do not omit to speak to the children of Christian parents, ministers included. Too often they have been so busy looking after other people's boys and girls that their own have been neglected. We are often mistaken in assuming that those who live in Christian homes must necessarily be Christians.

Surely all of our schoolmates, shopmates and friends have a right to expect of us a real interest in their spiritual welfare. It is not wise to talk to them constantly on the subject of religion, but we should let them know how we feel, and that they are on our heart all the time, even if we only speak to them occasionally.

It is here perhaps that the greatest perplexity arises, but let us never forget that we have an infallible guide, who is sufficient for all emergencies.

A Moral Lesson.

The devil did grin, for his darling sin is pride that apes humility.—Coleridge.

SIEWALK KETCHES.

RATS.

(By Howard L. Rann.)

THE rat is a small, eager reptile which lives on cheese and electric wires. It is well supplied with teeth, and straps them at night on the furniture in a loud tone of voice. One strong, adult rat, which has not had anything to eat for several days, can keep a whole family awake and running around in their night clothes, trying to turn a light on.

commit murder in the first degree.

Sometimes the house dog encounters these pills and has to be operated upon with sal soda. As a usual thing, a pan of water is placed near by, so that the pill will not lodge in the rat's throat and choke it to death. After a rat has admitted two or three of these pills to his system, he will lose interest in his surroundings and die in a very thorough and abrupt manner.

Rats are hunted with great determination by tall, flat-faced females, who attack them with a broom from the top of the steel range. Another dreaded enemy is the ardent, bow-legged rat terrier, which seizes them around the neck with its front teeth and short circuits their medulla oblongata.

The chief diversion of the domestic rat is to set fire to houses which have been wired by a truck gardener disguised as an electrician. The rat also has the unpleasant habit of crawling inside of a brick wall and committing suicide, thereby taking all of the enthusiasm out of a social call.

The rat has a voracious appetite and will eat anything from a new pair of suede shoes to a piano leg. It enjoys getting inside of a wooden partition and holding a family reunion. Every once on a while a family of musical rats will get together and pull off an impromptu rehearsal at the head of somebody's bed, just where they cannot be gotten at with anything but profanity.

BY WALT MASON

I started to build a shed to hold ice, and the neighbors came over with helpful advice. They sat on the grass, with the trees bending over, and told of the sheds they had builded of yore; such beautiful sheds, said those eloquent jays, were never beheld these degenerate days. Whenever I drove a nail into a board, some critic reared up on his hind legs and roared. "Oh, you mustn't do this," and "you shouldn't do that," and "your wall is too high," and "your roof is too flat."

GODD ADVICE I tried hard to follow the counsel they gave, as I toiled with my hammer and plane and spoke-shave; I changed and I altered, I fumed and I fussed, I built it, and I cackled and cussed, and I basted my fingers and ruined my thumbs, while critics sat around me displaying their gums. And when it was finished it fell with a crash, and nearly reduced me

DINNER STORIES

The learned counsel was endeavoring to impress the court with the fact that his clients had always been anxious to settle. "My lord," he said, impressively, "only eighteen months ago we held out the olive branch."

"Yes," responded the witty judge, "but there was no olive on it." The head of the fairy, he thought to save some of his hard-earned dollars on trying out simple home remedies when one of the household became ill, came in a few nights ago with a book under his arm, which he handed to his wife, remarking: "Here is a work on burns. I found to hamburger hash, I crawled from the ruins and picked up a rail and chased all those neighbors through dingle and dale, and cried: as I smote them: "Ods fish and cogs, wound! No more shall I loil with cheap adecks around! I'll build as I list, since I'm paying the price, and woe to the gaffer who springs good advice!"

it at an auction sale this afternoon. As one of the children is almost sure to get burned on the Fourth, I thought it would be a good investment. Look it over carefully and be prepared in case of an accident." The wife opened the volume dutifully and then exclaimed: "How odd! It's all poetry!"

Lord Rocksavage, who leads the Duke of Westminster's set, is handsome, a fine rider, a superb shot, and very smart in dress. He was strolling one warm and sunny winter morning on the terrace at Monte Carlo. From the cut of his gray flannels, a pickpocket realized Lord Rocksavage's opulence and attempted to steal his sovereign purse. But the young nobleman seized in his strong brown hand the pickpocket's grimy paw, and, looking at it disgustfully, he said, as he flung it from him: "Ho, where you put your hand in a gentleman's pocket without washing it first?"

He as a raw recruit, just enrolled in a crack cavalry regiment and paying his first visit to the riding school. "Ere's yer horse," cried the instructor. The recruit advanced, took the bridle gingerly, and examined his mount with great care. "What's it got this strap around it for?" he said, pointing to the girth. "Well," explained the instructor, "you see, all our orses ave a keen sense of humor, an as they sometimes ave suddenfits of laughter when they see the recruits, we put them bustin' round 'em to keep 'em from bustin' their sides!"

Believe, Hens Once Had Teeth.

That hens had teeth in the olden days is the opinion of Professor Gilbert of Los Angeles (Cal.) high school. In a recent address before a local organization of naturalists, he also told his auditors that the eggs of birds have greatly decreased in size since their teeth became extinct. Had they been marketed then as they are now, he considered, they would, at the present scale of egg prices, bring from $250 to $1,000 each.

Ease That Sore, Tight Chest! MUSTEROLE Does It!

Rub MUSTEROLE on your chest briskly, and you will be amazed at the blessed relief you will feel right away. It prevents pneumonia.

MUSTEROLE is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. Simply rub it on. No plaster necessary. Better than mustard plaster and positively does not blister.

Thousands who use MUSTEROLE will tell what relief it gives from Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chills, Frosted Feet and Colds (it prevents Pneumonia).

Doctors and nurses frankly recommend MUSTEROLE as a substitute for the old messy mustard plaster. Large hospitals use it.

At your druggists in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50. Accept no substitute. If your druggist cannot supply you, send 25c or 50c to the Musterole Company, Cleveland, Ohio, and we will mail you a jar, postage prepaid.

Myra Gray, Salt Lake City, Utah: "I have used Musterole to my greatest satisfaction for coughs, colds, etc. I am a nurse and recommend it."

Tuberculosis Medicine Saved This Man's Life

Pneumonia is a serious disease, and often lays the foundation for chronic lung troubles—sometimes Tuberculosis results. After pneumonia, or any serious chest ailment, it is wise to take Eckman's Alternative. Don't wait until the trouble is getting worse, but take Eckman's Alternative in time and avoid the dangers of disease. Read of the recovery in this case:

236 No. 41st St., Phila., Pa.
"Gentlemen, I am getting along very nicely and gaining strength all the time. I now weigh 155 pounds, a gain since September 15, 1907, of 28 pounds more than when I first started. I take the Alternative. I wish I had known of it two years ago, as it would have saved me much misery and distress. I was suffering from a very serious chest trouble, which followed a bad attack of pneumonia. My physician and a specialist declared my case hopeless. I cannot but be thankful to you and the Altruistic Club for the great blessing and change of health it has brought me."

(Signed) ADOLPH THOS. KELLY.
(Five years later, reports good health.)
Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Croup, Stiff Neck, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisonous opiates or habit-forming drugs. Write to Eckman Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists and Smith Drug Co., McGee & Russ, Peoples' Drug Co., in Janesville.

MOLLY McDONALD A TALE OF THE FRONTIER

By RANDALL PARRISH
Author of "Keith of the Border," "My Lady of Doubt," "My Lady of the South," etc., etc.
Illustrations by J. L. Barnes

Kane stared into the Sergeant's face a moment, and then out across the parade ground. A yellow light winked in the Colonel's office, occasionally blotted out by the passing figure of a sentry. The officer came to a prompt decision.

"The old man is over there yet, grubbing at some papers. Come on over, and tell him what you have told me. I believe the lass will turn up all right, but it does look rather queer."

The Colonel and the Post Adjutant were in the little office, busy over a pile of papers. Both officers glanced up, resenting the interruption, as Kane entered, Hamlin following. The former explained the situation briefly, while the commandant leaned back in his chair, his keen eyes studying the younger man.

"Very well, Captain Kane," he said shortly, as the officer's story ended. "We shall have to examine into this, of course, but will probably discover the whole affair a false alarm. There is, at present, no necessity for alarming any others. Sergeant, kindly explain to me why Miss McDonald should have come to you in her distress?"

Hamlin stepped forward, and told the story again in detail, answering the Colonel's questions frankly.

"This, then, was the only time you have met since your arrival?"

"Yes, sir."

"And this Mrs. Dupont? You have had a previous acquaintance with her?"

"Some years ago."

"You consider her a dangerous woman?"

"I know her to be utterly unscrupulous, sir. I am prepared to state that she is here under false pretenses, claiming to be a niece of Major McDonald's. I do not know her real purpose, but am convinced it is an evil one."

The Colonel shook his head doubtfully, glancing at the silent adjutant.

"That remains to be proven, Sergeant. I have, of course, met the lady, and found her pleasant and agreeable as a companion. Deuced pretty, too; hey, Benson? Why do you say she masquerades as McDonald's niece?"

"Because her maiden name was Carson and the Major's sister married a man named Counts."

"There might have been another marriage. Surely McDonald must know."

"Miss Molly says not, Colonel. He has known nothing of his sister for over twenty years, and accepted this woman on her word."

"Well, well! Interesting situation; hey, Benson? Like to get to the bottom myself. Damme if it don't sound like a novel. However, the thing before us right now is to discover what has become of Miss McDonald." He straightened up in his chair, then leaned across the table. "Captain Kane, make a thorough examination of McDonald's quarters first. If the girl is not found there, detail two men to accompany Sergeant Hamlin on a search of the town."

"Very well, sir; come on, Sergeant."

"Just a moment—if we find the trail leads beyond the town are we authorized to continue?"

"Certainly, yes. Adjutant, write out the order. Anything more?"

"I should prefer two men of my own troop, sir, mounted."

"Very well; see to it, Captain."

The two men walked down past the dark row of officers' houses, the Sergeant a step to the rear on the narrow cinder path. McDonald's quarters were as black as the others, and there was no response from within when Kane rapped at the door. They tried the rear entrance with the same result—the place was plainly unoccupied.

"Pick out your men, Hamlin," the Captain said sternly, "and I'll call the stable guard."

Ten minutes later, fully equipped for field service, the three troopers circled the guard-house and rode rapidly, down the dark road toward the yellow lights of the town. The Sergeant ex-

Donald? How the hell should I know? Some officer went out—yes; heavy set man with a mustache. I didn't pay any attention to him; had government transportation. There were two other passengers, both men, ranchers, I reckon; none in the station at all. What's that, Jane?"

A woman's voice spoke from out the darkness behind.

"Was the soldier asking if Major McDonald went East on the coach, Sam?"

"Sure; what do you know about it?"

"Why, I was outside when they started," she explained, "and the man in uniform, wasn't the Major. I know him by sight, for he's been down here a dozen times when I was at the desk. This fellow was about his size, but dark and stoop-shouldered."

"And the others?" asked Hamlin eagerly.

"I didn't know either of them, only I noticed one had a black beard."

"A very large, burly fellow?"

"No, I don't think so. I didn't pay special attention to any of them, only to wonder who the officer was, 'cause I never remembered seeing him here before at Dodge, but, as I recollect, the fellow with a beard was rather under-sized; had a shaggy buffalo-skin cap on."

Plainly enough the man was not Dupont, and McDonald had not departed on the stage, while some other, pretending to be, possibly wearing his clothes to further the deceit, had taken the seat reserved in the coach.

Buffed, bewildered by this unexpected discovery, the Sergeant swung back into his saddle, not knowing which way to turn.

CHAPTER XXIII.

The Dead Body.

That both McDonald and his daughter were involved in this strange puzzle was already clear. The disappearance of the one was as mysterious as that of the other. Whether the original conspiracy had centered about the Major, and Miss Molly had merely been drawn into the net through accident, or whether both were destined as victims from the first, could not be determined by theory. Indeed the Sergeant could evolve no theory, could discover no purpose in the outrage. Convinced that Dupont and his wife were the moving spirits, he yet possessed no satisfactory reason for charging them with the crime, for which there was no apparent object.

Nothing remained to be done but search the town, a blind search in the hope of uncovering some trail. That crime had been committed—either murder or abduction—was evident; the two had not dropped thus suddenly out of sight without cause. Nor did it seem possible they could have been whisked away without leaving some trace behind. The town was accustomed to murder and sudden death; the echo of revolver shots would create no panic, awaken no alarm, and yet the place was small, and there was little likelihood that any deed of violence would pass long unnoticed. With a few words of instruction, and hasty descriptions of both Dupont and Connors, Hamlin sent his men down the straggling street to drag out the occupants of shack and tent, riding himself to the blazing front of the "Poodle Dog."

Late as the hour was, the saloon and the gambling rooms above were all crowded. Hamlin plunged into the mass of men, pressing passage back and forth, his eyes searching the faces, while he eagerly questioned those with whom he had any acquaintance. Few among these could recall to mind either "Reb" or his boon companion, and even those who did retained no recollection of having seen the two lately. The bartenders asserted that neither man had been there that night, and the dealers above were equally positive. The city marshal, encountered outside, remembered Dupont, and had seen him at the hotel three hours before, but was positive the fellow had not been on the streets since. Connors he did not know, but if the man was Major McDonald's driver, then he was missing all right, for Captain Barrett had to employ a liveryman to drive Mrs. Dupont back to the fort. No, there was no lady with her; he was sure, for he had watched them get into the carriage.

AFTON

Afton, Jan. 17.—Afton was a pretty busy place Wednesday and E. Brinkman, proprietor of the Afton creamery, is congratulating himself upon the fine crop of ice which he has stored. About 25 men were required to do the work, which was completed in the one day. The ice is of good quality, about thirteen inches thick. Mrs. Otis and Mrs. Griffin assisted Mrs. Brinkman in serving the dinner and supper.

Arthur Woodstock and Frank Williams, proprietors of the Afton hotel, filled their ice houses Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Schultz attended the funeral of Mrs. Rau, at Beloit, Wednesday.

Miss Eva Griffin left Tuesday for Florida, to spend about three months. She will be located near Jacksonville.

Frank Miller of Crookston, Minn., called on Afton relatives Tuesday evening.

Mrs. James Seales who has been quite sick with heart trouble is improving.

Mrs. Geo. Otis attended the funeral of Dr. Gibson at Janesville last week. Benj. Harding, who is on the sick list is not improving as fast as his friends would like to have him.

Mrs. Frank McFarler is not well. Wm. Denoyer has received another car load of buckwheat, which he will grind.

Say Farewell to Cares.

Quick is the succession of human events; the cares of today are seldom the cares of tomorrow; and when we lie down at night we may safely say to most of our troubles: "Ye have done your worst, and we shall meet no more."—Cowper.

Rap at English Language.

Mr. Ruskin was once asked if it would not be well for the Welsh language to die out and be replaced by the English. "God forbid!" he replied. "The Welsh language is the language of music. There is no genius about the English language. The Scotch have got all the poetry and the Irish all the wit, and how the devil we got Shakespeare I do not know."

Relieved by Vinol.

Strength and even life itself depends upon the nourishment and proper assimilation of food, and unless digestion is good the whole body suffers.

Mrs. L. D. Cook, Vineland, N. J., says: "I was sick for five years with indigestion. My stomach seemed to have a heavy load in it and at other times it seemed to be tied in knots. Nobody knows how I suffered."

"I tried a great many doctors and a great many kinds of medicine but nothing did any good until I took Vinol. It has helped me wonderfully. I am improving fast, feel better and am getting my flesh back again. Vinol has done me a world of good."

We know the great power of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, in curing chronic stomach trouble and building up all weakened run-down persons, and that is why we guarantee to return your money if it does not help you. Smith Drug Co., Janesville, Wis.

Want to Feel Young?

It's Olive Tablets For You!

Beware of the habit of constipation. It develops from just a few constipated days, especially in Old People, unless you take yourself in hand.

Coax the faded bowel muscles back to normal action with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Don't force them to unnatural action with severe medicines or by merely flushing out the intestines.

Dr. Edwards believes in gentleness, persistence and Nature's assistance, with "nasty" sickening cathartics.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets oil the bowels; their action is gentle, yet positive. There is never any pain or griping when Olive Tablets are used. Just the kind of treatment old persons should have.

Take Olive Tablets mixed with olive oil and have no trouble with your bowels or stomach.
